March 2026

Welcome to Spring. The first day of spring in our northern hemisphere is 1st March. The astronomical spring date is 20th March to 20th June.

March 1st is St David's day – which honours the patron saint of Wales and remembers his life's miracles and his founding of monasteries. The celebration is about Welsh culture, heritage and national pride. The symbols of Wales being the daffodil and the leek. The flower of the month is also the daffodil which is said to be a sign of hopefulness and joy.

The Chinese new year ends on March 3rd culminating with the traditional lantern festival. Also on this day is national hearing day bringing in to focus good ear health. The third is also World Wildlife day which celebrates the beautiful and varied animals of the wild.

March 4th is engineering day for which highlights the role of engineers working towards sustainable development.

March 5th is World Book Day an annual celebration by readers everywhere.

March 11th is the international day for digital learning

March 13th is Red Nose Day a day when people come together to raise money for charity. Every year this event is covered by the BBC.

March 14th is mathematics and pi day.

March 15th is the Academy Awards when nominated actors are awarded the Oscars. This day was also Mother's Day or mothering Sunday.

March 17th is Saint Patrick's Day a celebration of St Patrick who brought Christianity to Ireland. He used the shamrock – a 3 leafed plant, as a symbol to explain the Holy Trinity. Each leaf of the shamrock represented the father the son and the Holy Ghost.

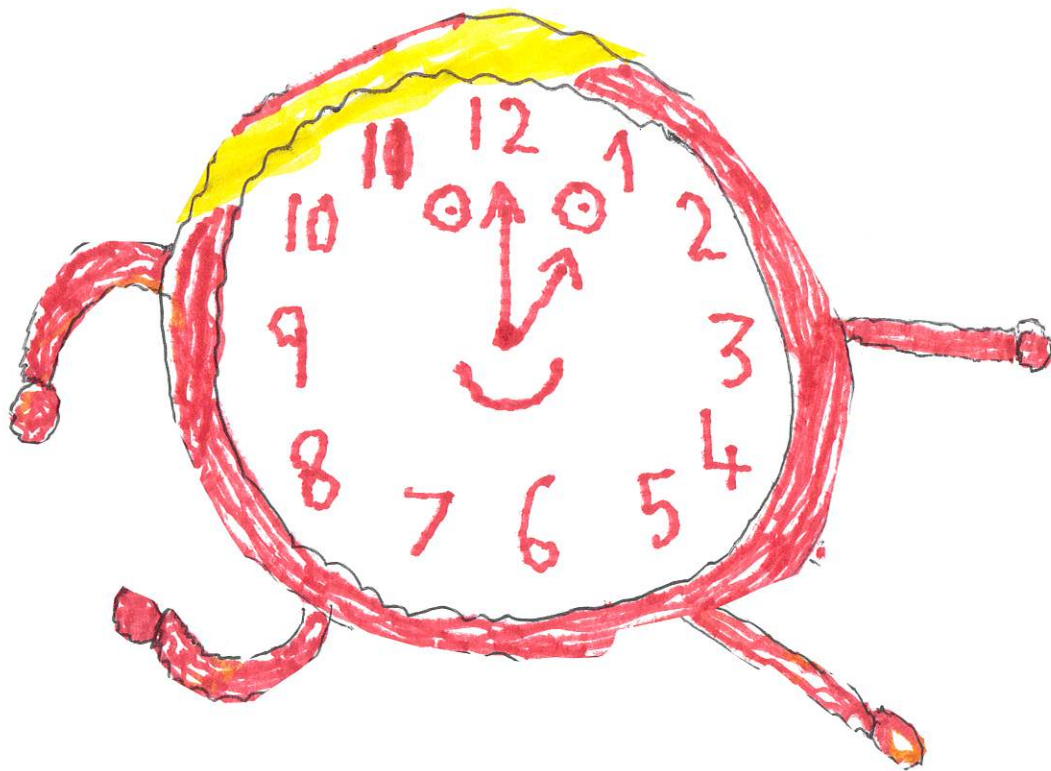

March 20th is world Happiness Day. Also on this day was is the spring equinox .

March 22nd is passion Sunday an event in the Christian calendar.

March 29th is Palm Sunday. This is the start of holy week in which our king gifts maundy money to the poor on the day before Good Friday.

March is famous for buds and blossom on trees. The most well known blossom trees are in Japan. During March spring lambs will start to be born.

March has been another very busy sporting month with events taking place including tennis tournaments in California, golfing, Six Nations rugby tournament finishing with France winning the trophy and Ireland finishing a good second and England finishing third. The All England open badminton championship took place and championship cricket tournament semi-finals in India. The tennis open is currently being played in Miami and in baseball the MLB tournament has concluded.
